EY ELEANOR. In the quiet winter gleamings, When the lonely night-winds sigh, And the Angel hosts of Heaven Hang their banners in the sky, Then, dear Nannie, I am dreaming Of the time you came to me,

When the year was wreathed with flowers As my heart with thoughts of thee. I remember we were "Maying," And the seasons, out of tune, Had o'arscattered earth with roses

From the favored month of June; And you, love-the fairest truant That had wandered from its sphere-Had but strayed awhile from Heaven With the budding, bright new year We sat silent on the brook-side

And the laughing ripples played With the lily cups and cresses That along its margin strayed; And the sunsat stained the water. Where it calmly slept at rest, As if beds of blushing roses Had been dropped upon its breast

And like music from the meadow, Where the slanting sunbeams fell, Came the sound of browsing cattle, And a faintly tinkling bell; While more clearly in the woodland Rang the dancers' merry tread, Timed with wood-birds softly tapping

On the beech tree overhead, Alas! now the year is dreary And its flowers do not blow But sweet memories in sorrow Hide, like violets in snow: And those hap, y hours are roses That forever bloom again, And spring smiling from my weeping As the flowers spring from rain

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. Details of the victory at Kingston, N. C. show that the march was a continued series of fighting, in which all distinguished themselves. Several bayonet charges took place. The rebels are reported as having 15,000 men and their loss in killed and wounded is heavy; 500 were taken prison-ers. Col. Gray, of the Ninety-sixth New York, was killed. Our total loss does not exceed 150.

The principal fight was a few miles from Kingston, where the rebels were intrenched; but after three hours' fighting they retreated towards Kingston, endeavoring to de stroy a bridge leading to that place; but the Ninth New Jersey charged over it, and saved it. THE CONCERT .- We do not remember when we enjoyed a concert so much as that of last evening. In the first place, the audience was large, fashionable, appreciative and well-behaved. We say well-be haved, because it is too seldom the case for an audience in this city to pay proper respect to the performers and to themselves.

In the next place, the programme was an excellent one, and the performances gave such delight, that nearly every piece was encored, and the audience kept their seats till the last note was struck.

Of Prof. Zoller, it is scarcely necessary for us to say more than that he fully sustained his reputation as an admirable accompanyist and as a pianist. His duetts with Miss Eugenie were encored-the only rives at 5:00 s. M. L. & F. R.R. closes at 12:00 at night and 1:00 p. m., drawback was that the two pianos were 1):06 A. M. and 6:30 P. > Miss Engenie proved herself one of the best pianists in this country. Her touch is elegant, her taste pure, her execution brilliant; and to crown all, she throws into it an expression that is seldom heard. We do not hesitate to rank her first among the female pianists of the country, and fully the equal, in all the essentials of good music, of many Professors who have gained great reputation. Her solos were loudly encored, and one or two of the encores also encored.

Miss Marie gained for herself a name and reputation as a vocalist and successful teacher, such as very few can gain from a Louisville audience. She combines purity Marshal-Office on of tone with great power, elegance of style, and taste, with an execution which is brilliant, or touching, or delicate, as the passage may demand. Her vocalization is smooth, easy, unstrained; she was also encored in nearly every song.

And what shall we say of her pupil-la petite Alice? The audience were not more surprised and delighted than we. She has one of the sweetest voices we have ever heard-pure and fresh; very clear, very even-well modulated, well balanced, well managed, of good strength and sufficient volume. Her execution is easy and natural, without contortion of body or face-without apparent exertion. Her voice is a pure soprano, very flexible and sympathetic; better adapted, however, to the pathetic than the brilliant. Her performances were received with enthusiastic applause, and conferred as much honor upon her preceptress as herself. To be sure, we do not apply the same standard of criticism to her as to her teacher but, should we do so, we should still have no serious fault to find. Let her be very careful of the talent that has been confided to her keeping; let her study closely-study to understand and convey her author's meanprinting material, we shall, after Saturday, December | ing, and beware of a servile imitation of her teacher's style; let her take Miss Marie's excellenceis as a foundation upon which to build a style emphatically her own, and we predict for her a brilliant career in the musical world.

WHAT'S IN A NAME ?- We are heartily tired of and disgusted with the false names under which fur dealers have so long humbugged the public. Perhaps there are but ladies who know the real name of the variety of fur they are wearing. We are really glad that we are to be relieved of this annoyance. We learn that our princi-pal fur dealers, Messrs. Green & Green, have resolved to abate this nuisance, as far as their house is concerned, and hereafter to call all furs by their legitimate names. We know this will be appreciated by the public. We hope to hear no more of "Rock Martin," "Golden Fitch," "River Mink," Mexican Mink," and many other names that have been used in this connection. Ladies who prefer to know what kind of fur they are buying will take notice.

The Washington Star says it is confidently reported on the street that General Burnside has tendered his resignation of the command of the army of the Potomac. NEW YORK, Dec. 28. The Washington Star, of yesterday even ing, says that a caucus of Representatives and Senators was held on the 16th, and a resolution offered requesting the President to dispense with the services of Seward, which was discussed. The vote was 16 in favor, against, 13. On the 17th another caucus adopted a ubstitute recommending the President to partially remodel his Cabinet, which was manimously agreed to. The conservatives believed it would be regarded as a general invitation to the whole Cabinet to resign. On being informed of the act, the Secre-

CARO, Dec. 19. We have additional particulars concerning the gunboat Caire. The explosion took place twenty-one miles above the mouth of the Yazoo. So terrific was it that the casemate parted from the hull, and the 8-inch front guns were thrown against the spardeck, and the anchor tossed two feet in the air. Fortunately a torpedo struck so as to tear away the bow, and leave the magazine intact. Lieut. Morton, a pilot, is slightly burnt in the breast and leg.

No rebel troops were seen except those in a fort at Haine's Bluff. The gunboats shelled the woods on both sides. The en-10 guns already mounted on the river, making 200 in all. Batteries extend eight miles back of the city, and it is reported that 6,000 troops have lately been from Vicksburg to Jackson. At the latter place the force is estimated at 10,000. The burning of cotton along the river is still going on. The steamer Gladiator is ashore back of Island 63. The Tecumseh 130 Balmoral Skirts, is aground at the head of Island 66, bow down stream, in a position to be easily captured by guerrillas, and, it appears, is short Ladies, Misses & Children of fuel and unable to extricate herself.

ween Trenton and Jackson, and report says a train was fired into. No doubt the guerrillas will make a bold attempt among us in that vicinity, as they do not like to see so much cotton coming North.

Governor Yates has signified his intention to send an officer to confer with General Tuttle about prisoners who desire to enter our army. They seem to be in earn-est, declaring they will jump in the river off the boat, steal away at stopping places, and do all they can to keep away from the clutches of Jeff. Davis. There is no ground for the belief that Vicksburg will be evac-

Arrested for Stealing Government Horses—Col. Limberg.

Dr. A. Bauer was last night arrested on the charge of receiving and selling horses stolen from the Government by his son, who, we are informed, has been convicted of the deed. It was expected he would give bail, and avoid sleeping all night in the Stationhouse.

Since the foregoing was in type, we learn that it is Dr. Bauer's son-in-law, Col. Limberg, of the 106th O. V., who has been courtmartialed for sequestrating Government horses, and sent to the Frankfort, Ky., State prison; and that this fact has been known in the city by officers of the law, who held it secret until they saw the disposition of the horses. Coroner Emmert went on Dr. Bauer's bail for $650, and he was released .- Cin. Com, 17th.

A correspondent of the Evening Post

The true story of the Compiegne plot to murder Napoleon was told me to-day. It is, you may depend upon it, the genuine article, patented, and coming direct from the chef de police, by only three intermediary stages. It is this: His Majesty has a theater attached to his palace at Compiegne, and always has a company of the best actors during his sojourn there. While they were lighting up the theater one evening the chief of the police discovered three suspicious-looking men in a corner of one of the

THE DUTY ON PAPER .- There is a duty of thirty per cent. on imported paper; and as the price of it is daily rising in this country, the newspaper and book publishers in New York are asking Congress to reduce the duty, and allow foreign paper to come in under a rate of two or three per cent. The Government, they urge, will receive a large revenue by the reduction, as no for-eign paper of any account is imported under this high rate of duty, and the publish ers of the country would be relieved of the enormous pressure to which they are now subjected by the high price of domestic pa-per, owing, as these persons charge, to a combination among the paper manufacturers and dealers to keep up the prices. As the publishers are taxed in a variety of Cheap Publications, Magazines and Newsother ways for the support of the Govern-ment, the remission of the duty at this juncture seems but a reasonable demand .- Phil
